COCKTAILS

Manhattan Transfer, John Dos Pasos - 1925 85

This novel tells the story of the rise of urban life in New York City from the Gilded Age to the Jazz age. And in our very own expression, it combines its bona fide spirit, straight rye, with the original Italian vermouth Carpano Antica Formula & is rounded off with an house doctored tincture made from cinnamon, amarena cherries & aromatic bitters.

Confession of a Thug, Philip Meadows Taylor - 1839 70

The English novel is based on the Thuggee cult in British India. The classic pre-prohibitional combination of raspberry cordial, Bombay Sapphire gin & citrus juice of a clover club, is here augmented by the topping of toasted Italian rose meringue.

Mint Julep, The First Settlers in Virginia, John Davis - 1803 75

The novelist John Davis was the creator of the romantic Pocahontas mythos; but he also mentioned, that the first settlers in Virginia consumed a sweetened drink with mint. Based on this, we created two contemporary julep, one using Elijah Craig straight bourbon, liquid nitrogen bruised mint and sugar. The other variant is just adding peach preserve and orange bitters to add some luscious fruitiness and complexity.

The Silver Sword, Ian Serraillier - 1956 75

In the turmoil of the German occupation of Poland during WWII, the novel picks up on Joseph Balicki, the headmaster of a Polish school. The primary setting of the novel is Poland - the same origin of Belvedere vodka, which is featured as base in the cocktail. It is infused with tarragon and then shaken with house crafted tarragon cordial and lemon juice.
